

DEVELOPING COMMUNITY, CAPACITY AND SPIRIT 1:

THE WHAT AND THE WHY

This workshop provides a simple and powerful framework for working with and in communities. Many people have found this training brings much greater understanding and clarity to their work in 'Community Development', 'Capacity Building' and related fields. It will also provide a framework for exploring some key questions in your work:

DEVELOPING COMMUNITY

- How do we ensure that our policies and practices develop, and don't diminish, community?
- How do we actively contribute to 'communities' that are able to support local people?

DEVELOPING CAPACITY

- How do we contribute to empowering rather than just serving, the people we work with?
- How do we contribute to strong networks of relationship around people?
- How do we ensure that people's ideas of 'what I/we can be or do' are responded to, turning them into action?

DEVELOPING "SPIRIT"

- How do we help create social environments that develop, and don't choke, the spirit of the people and communities we work with?

*The course is relevant to anyone exploring these questions: managers, policy makers, community and human services workers, volunteers and community members.

THE TRAINER: Tim Muirhead, of the CSD Network has more than 20 years experience as a trainer, adviser and practitioner in community development and related fields. He now works, on a consultancy basis, with all spheres of government, non-government agencies and community groups.

Tim is the author of "Weaving Tapestries: a handbook for building communities"
